WARREN COUNTY

Henry S. Pomroy, acting director, Bureau of Traffic Engineering, State Department of Highways has recommended that parking be completely removed from both sides of Pennsylvania avenue to ease traffic congestion, and also recommended conversion to a three dial control system in Warren's central area. Warren Borough Council has been asked to review Pomroy's letter.

Three diamond rings, retail value approximately $4,000, were stolen from James Jewellers, 208 Liberty st., Warren, in a daring daylight burglary Saturday according to borough police. The theft is under investigation.

Warren's application for a state grant to financially aid the proposed Oak st. swimming pool complex looks favorable according to information received by Borough Council. Site clearance for the pool has started.

THE NATION

After eight days of debate on civil rights the Senate reached a compromise on a school aid bill and voted the largest such subsidy in the nation's history. The measure calls for the appropriation of $14.4 billion over the next three years, with the bulk of the money earmarked for schools in urban and rural slums. The debate narrowly escaped being bogged down in a filibuster by southern senators who objected to provisions that would cut off funds for school districts that lag in their desegregation plans.

The House voted an authorization of $1.08 billion for the poverty program this year. However, the chairman of the appropriations committee said he would introduce legislation limiting the allocation to $1.6 billion.

President Johnson referred to Justice Department statistics showing a 16 per cent increase in the nation's crime rate and said they illustrated the "awesome consequences" of withholding federal aid to local law enforcement agencies. In his statement, issued at the Texas White House, Johnson appealed to Congress to reconsider and pass the anticrime act that he advocated 10 months ago.

THE WORLD

The Viet Cong made simultaneous attacks on three United States infantry base camps in the upper Mekong Delta, 25 miles southwest of Saigon. The guerrillas were repulsed, but in one case they succeeded in breaching the barbed wire of the outpost and fought hand-to-hand with defenders. Seven American soldiers were killed and 46 were wounded in the three engagements.

The concept of a multi-national fleet of destroyers under NATO command was approved by the chiefs of staff of the 14 member countries meeting in Brussels. The plan, which will probably have the United States, Britain and the Netherlands contributing one or two destroyers, will be put up for ratification Tuesday by NATO's defense planning committee.

Secretary General Thant appealed to the Security Council to renew the mandate of the UN peacekeeping force on Cyprus. Thant catalogued the limitations placed on the 4,500-man force but also cited its success in preventing wide-ranging open hostilities between Turkish and Greek Cypriotes. Without Security Council action, the UN troops would have to leave by Dec. 26.

The world's first supersonic airliner, the Concorde, was unveiled by its French and British developers before 1,000 dignitaries Monday. Although the plane is the product of joint design and production, British speakers at the ceremony made chiding allusions to France's veto of Britain's application for membership in the Common Market. The Concorde is to undergo flight tests in about 10 weeks.

Two cross-country contests highlight tonight's high school sports slate. Eisenhower's basketball team travels to Sheffield and the Knight wrestlers host Youngsville. In other games, the Eagles cagers are at Cochran and the Warren-Edinboro Campus quintet plays Venango Campus at WAHS. Page 5.

Unfavorable weather conditions held down the kill on the opening of the antlerless deer season yesterday. An extension of the season is possible if the situation doesn't improve today and Saturday. Page 5.

The Times-Mirror and Observer basketball team notched its first Taft League victory last night, whipping Gold Star 93-68. Six TMO cagers scored in double figures, led by Ron Isackson with 26 and Ron Anderson with 20. Page 5.

UCLA and Houston retained their number one and two rating on the AP college cage poll. Vanderbilt and Kentucky both advanced in the Top Ten, which saw the addition of three new teams. Page 5.

Stresses Need For Peace

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant called Monday for "statesmanship and good will" in the search for a lasting settlement of the long, bitter Greek-Turkish feud over the island of Cyprus.

Greece, Turkey and Cyprus and the U.N. Security Council, he declared, must not permit the situation "to stumble from crisis to deeper crisis and danger to graver danger."

The secretary-general made the comments in a report to the council on the operations of the 4,700-man U.N. peacekeeping force on the island in the eastern Mediterranean during the last six months.

He recalled last month's flareup between Cypriotes of Greek and Turkish origin that almost led to war between Greece and Turkey.

"It is of the utmost urgency now to act with speed and determination in the search for a lasting solution to the Cyprus question," he said.

The Security Council is expected to meet late this week to renew the authority for the peacekeeping force. Its present six-month mandate expires Dec. 26.

Diplomats considered it doubtful that the council would be ready at that time to give the force a larger role in maintaining peace on the island, as Thant had suggested in an earlier appeal to the parties.

As part of the accord that eased the threat of war, Greece and Turkey agreed to withdraw from the island their troops in excess of levels permitted under the 1960 Cyprus independence agreements—650 for Turkey and 950 for Greece.

Turkey also is demanding elimination of the Cyprus national guard, made up of Greek Cypriotes. The Turks contend the force is illegal.

Thant has said that ultimately all non-Cypriot troops, except those of the United Nations, should be withdrawn from the island. The U.N. force, he suggested, should be empowered to supervise the disarmament of the island and help to devise practical arrangements to safeguard internal security.

Start to Clear Site for Pool But Progress May Be Slow

Warren borough council last night, after disposing of the community's parking and traffic problems, learned that site clearance for the proposed Oak street swimming pool complex has started but may be a slow process.

Council was informed that indications were that Warren's application for a 50 per cent state grant under the $500 million bond issue for conservation and recreation (SB 509) looked favorable.

It was pointed out that amendments to the bill had taken the measure out of the "so called pork barrel department" with the legislature not committed to decide how the money can be parcelled out.

Members of council were urged to contact State Sen. Richard C. Frame and Rep. William W. Allen to get action so construction can get under way as soon as the dollars are available.

Dr. Robert Probst advised he would soon no longer be a resident of Warren and would resign his council post as of December 31. He leaves an unexpired term of two years and council must consider an appointment to replace him.

In other business, council unanimously approved the purchase of a triangular parcel of land in the 7th ward, owned by Charles and Elizabeth Musante for $1,000. Under Project 70 and authorized by the borough code, the land will be used as an extension of Crescent playground.

The extension of Conewango avenue to Lexington was reviewed and it was explained that after necessary land acquisition and razing of buildings, actual construction would take about three months with weather a factor.

Mayor D.E. Conaway spoke briefly on the recent Governor's Conference on Traffic Safety, stressing the need for a pedestrian control law which is not on the borough's books. He noted too that a complete revision of the motor vehicle code was recommended as well as upgrading fines for moving traffic violations as compared to others such as the $100 fine for littering.

CHARGES POLICY VACUUM

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy charged Monday night that the United States has a policy vacuum in the Middle East because of the Vietnam war. He is pictured above speaking at a Democratic dinner in New York in one of his many appearances in opposition to the renomination of President Johnson as Chief Executive.

Diamond Rings Stolen In Broad Daylight

James Jewellers, 208 Liberty st., was the victim of a daring daylight burglary Saturday, it was revealed yesterday by Police Chief Michael Egan. Stolen from an oval, glass display case were three diamond rings, retail value approximately $4,000 not covered by insurance it is believed although this is still being checked.

Egan said the theft was discovered at 5:30 p.m. Saturday and investigation indicated the move was probably made about 4:30 p.m., at a time when the local jewelry store was crowded with prospective customers. According to police the glass top of the display was pried up, possibly with a knife, and two small jewelry boxes containing the three rings removed.

Store employees recalled that three or four strangers, believed to be part of a group, had been noted in various areas of the store. One was a woman, believed to be about 50 years old, who was sitting in a chair by the diamond display case. Egan said the investigation is being continued.

Senate Passes $14.2 Billion School Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed a $14.2-billion school aid authorization bill Monday after settling a controversy with Southern members over desegregation issues.

The vote was 71 to 7, with all the opposing votes coming from the Southern side.

The bill, the biggest federal aid authorization for education in history, still faces a stormy compromise session with the House.

The Senate version authorizes a three-year extension of the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Act and other school programs while the House bill, passed last May, would authorize a $4.1 billion one-year extension.

Southern senators led by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., discontinued their fight to amend the civil rights features of the bill after Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., produced written assurances that the administration would adopt new procedures in school desegregation cases.

These assurances were in a letter from John W. Gardner, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, who said school districts would be given at least six months notice of any threatened civil rights action, and that funds would not be cut off during a school year unless a district acts in bad faith.

The House bill contains a provision, eliminated by the Senate, which would require the Office of Education to go through a lengthy formal process before cutting off funds. The Johnson administration strongly opposed this provision.

The Senate also completely revised a House provision which would channel entirely through the states funds in the Elementary and Secondary Act for innovative, experimental programs.

Under the Senate language, one-third of this money would be handled by the states next year, one-half in fiscal 1970, and two-thirds in fiscal 1971.

Marines in 10-Hour Battle With North Vietnamese

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines maneuvering along the South China Sea Coast on foot and in amphibious tractors fought a 10-hour battle Monday with North Vietnamese troops near the Leatherneck outpost of Gio Linh and reported killing 54 of the enemy.

It was the third big fight along the demilitarized zone in a week. The battle raged until the Marines poured in reinforcements and the North Vietnamese pulled back. The U.S. Command countered with raids on North Vietnamese positions in the area by B52 saturation bombers and Navy attack bombers.

The Marines put their casualties at 20 wounded in the fight that opened when elements of the 4th Marine Regiment and the 1st Amphibious Battalion were hit by heavy Communist mortar, machine-gun and small arms fire about five miles east-northeast of Gio Linh.

The Marines also reported that North Vietnamese gunners slammed 87 rounds of artillery and mortars into their outposts and other maneuver battalions along the frontier of the west Monday. The shelling cost the Marines one dead and one wounded.

The U.S. Command sent in B52s to pound North Vietnamese positions inside the one time demilitarized zone from which the Communists stage their attacks along the frontier.

In one strike Monday, the eight-engined Stratofortresses hit suspected North Vietnamese troop concentrations and fortified rocket positions three miles north of Gio Linh.

The big bombers returned Tuesday morning to raid suspected North Vietnamese troop concentrations and artillery positions in the northern part of the DMZ, five miles northwest of the Marine outpost of Con Thien.

In the air war over North Vietnam, northeast monsoons, now in their sixth week, continued to hamper the American air effort Monday. Most of the strikes flown were confined to secondary targets in the southern half of North Vietnam.

NATO Votes to Establish Multinational Destroyer Fleet

(C) N.Y. Times News Service BRUSSELS — The top military men of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, sitting in special session here, Monday voted to establish a multinational fleet of destroyers to be placed under NATO command and available to carry out its orders in peacetime, it was learned.

To be called the Standing Naval Force Atlantic, the NATO fleet could be rushed to a trouble spot anywhere in the Atlantic to demonstrate in a concrete way the alliance's concern and power.

The plan will be presented for ratification Tuesday to a closed-door meeting of the 14-nation defense planning committee, representing all of the NATO countries except France. NATO officials say the defense ministers currently belonging to the committee are expected to approve the idea quickly and order its implementation by next spring.

Monday's action by the military committee, made up of the chiefs of staff of the 14 NATO countries, specified that any of the Atlantic powers may contribute fully-manned vessels to the new fleet and that command would rotate, probably once a year, among the participating nations.

Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was the United States representative at the military committee session.

Initially, it is expected that the U.S., Great Britain and the Netherlands will each contribute one or two destroyers to the fleet. Others, including Denmark and Canada, have also expressed interest, diplomatic sources say.

At present, only air defense elements are subject to NATO command in peacetime. All other forces must be formally turned over to NATO command in time of crisis before they can be committed to action by the alliance.

Congress Okays $2 Billion Anti-Poverty Money Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A two-year extension of the war on poverty, putting community action programs under control of public officials, won final congressional approval Monday.

The House accepted a compromise version of the controversial bill, already passed by the Senate, and sent it to the White House.

The House, on a 246-149 vote, sent the compromise package to the White House. The Senate accepted it, 62 to 16, last Friday. In its final form the bill authorizes $1.98 billion for the current fiscal year and $2.18 billion next year for the 3-year-old program.

But it was clear as Congress accelerated its drive toward adjournment late this week that actual money in a separate appropriation bill would be lower, probably between $1.6 billion and $1.7 billion for this fiscal year.

Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., of the Appropriations Committee, told the House he favors a $1.6-billion funding level. A bill containing money for the antipoverty program is scheduled to be submitted to the House by his unit on Tuesday.

Shriver, in closed-door testimony given two weeks ago but just released by the Appropriations Committee, said it would take $1.788 billion to keep the program running at its present rate.

In this appearance, Shriver said there is no question "that at this time we are winning this war, the war against poverty."

Harold Baker, Civic Leader, Is Dead

The founder and former owner of Bakers Cleaners, Harold D. Baker, 61, 33 Front st., Warren, a prominent civic leader, died at Jamestown General Hospital, Jamestown, N.Y., on Monday, Dec. 11, 1967.

Born Aug. 30, 1906 in Jamestown, N.Y., Mr. Baker had resided in Warren for 55 years, and was employed by the Thomas Coupling Division of Rex Chain Belt Co. for 13 years.

A veteran of World War II he had been a member of the Warren Salvation Army Advisory Board; a treasurer of the Inter-Faith Chapel of Warren State Hospital; a former director of the Warren County Civil Defense; member and past president of Kiwanis Club; a member of United Commercial Travelers; the Neighborhood Community of the Boy Scouts; Chief Complanter Council for many years; and past exalted ruler and member of the B.P.O.E. Elks Lodge, No. 223, and also past District Deputy.

In addition, Mr. Baker was a member of the First Lutheran Church and served on the Church Council.

His wife, Martha Bohren Baker, preceded him in death, Sept. 2, 1966.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Jeannette Highhouse, Warren. See BAKER Page 2

Shafer Signs Racing Bill

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer, emphasizing that he neither advocated, sponsored nor supported the legislation, signed into law Monday a bill legalizing flat racing in Pennsylvania.

Shafer, who previously had stated his personal opposition to the sport as a fund-raiser for the state, commented in a terse statement:

"Today I have signed into law Senate Bill 829 as I said I would if the bill reached me in proper form from the General Assembly."

"I did not advocate, sponsor or support this legislation, but I believe it is impossible, philosophically, morally or practically, to distinguish between pari-mutuel betting on horse racing with a harness or horse racing under a rider."

In a related development, the Senate sent to Shafer on a vote of 27-12 a bill which would authorize the licensing of a fifth harness racing corporation. Erie county lawmakers had been spearheading the legislation in an effort to secure a track for their area.

The flat racing bill, signing occurred without fanfare in the governor's private, interior office.

France Indicates She Will Remain With NATO Until '70

(c) N.Y. Times News Service BRUSSELS — France has indicated she intends to remain in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization at least until 1970. She withdrew from the integrated military organization of the alliance last year, and there had been speculation that she would also pull out of NATO political councils as soon as she could.

The treaty setting up the Atlantic alliance was signed in Washington on April 4, 1949,

LBJ Notes Crime Up; Blames Congress Partly

(C) N.Y. Times News Service SAN ANTONIO — President Johnson noted Monday that there had been an increase in crime in the United States this year and implied that Congress was partly at fault because of failure to act on an anticrime bill.

Postal Increase Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House gave its approval Monday to legislation raising the cost of mailing a letter to six cents and granting pay raises to all federal workers.

It returned the measure to the senate, which was expected to send the entire package to the White House quickly, in time for federal employees to receive a Christmas bonus in the form of retroactive pay increases from Oct. 1, 1967.

Postal workers would get a 6 per cent pay boost, other federal employees would get 4.5 per cent more, with additional boosts scheduled for July 1, 1968, and July 1, 1969, at an eventual annual cost of $2.7 billion.

Postal rates for all classes of mail would go up Jan. 7, with first-class letters going from 5 cents to 6 cents, air mail letters from 8 cents to 10 cents, post cards from 4 cents to 5 cents and air mail cards from 6 cents to 8 cents.

Both the postal and pay sections of the bill exceeded administration recommendations, but President Johnson is expected to sign the measure.

All classes of postal rates would be affected, and an estimated $900 million in new revenue would be generated once all of the increases take effect.

Matters of third-class bulk mail—which critics call "junk mail"—would pay a minimum per piece of 3.6 cents starting next month, compared with the present level of 2.875 cents. The rate would jump to 4 cents in July 1969, but a 3.8 cent rate would apply for the first 250,000 pieces mailed out during a year.

Second-class rates, which cover newspapers and magazines, would go up with the minimum piece rate rising from 1 cent to 1.1 cent next year, 1.2 cents in 1969 and 1.3 cents in 1970. Per-piece rates for nonprofit second-class publications would go from the present minimum of .125 cent to .2 cent.

local law enforcement agencies.

He said he had urged Congress 10 months ago to pass a comprehensive anti-crime bill to provide money to state and local police agencies to improve their selection and training. "Had Congress acted promptly," he said in a statement issued by the Texas White House, "our police and others on the front line in the fight against crime would be receiving new support which they so desperately need."

He said the federal government would already be investing $50 million in local agencies and laying the groundwork for a $300-million program that could begin next year. "The delay has been costly to the American people," he said. "I urge that it be continued; once again, I urge the recommendation of passage of the safe streets and crime control act as soon as possible. Mounting evidence of its need can be ignored only at our own peril."

The Justice Department report said the crime rate in the first nine months was up 16 per cent over the same period last year. If the trend continued during the last quarter of the year, it would produce the highest annual increase in crime of the decade, according to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

F.B.I. figures show that the number of crimes committed by Americans went up 11 per cent last year over the year before, 6 per cent in 1965, 13 per cent in 1964, 10 per cent in 1963, 6 per cent in 1962 and 3 per cent in 1961.

Bank robberies accounted for the most spectacular increase in the nation's crimes this year. They were up 60 per cent over last year, according to the government report.

Today's report by the Justice Department was produced by the F.B.I. and released by Attorney General Ramsey Clark and J. Edgar Hoover, the FBI director.

Hoover pleaded for financial support of law enforcement but without mentioning the administration's bill.

Expect Increase Arab Ports

WASHINGTON (AP) U.S. government analysts believe Russia will acquire no naval or military bases of its own in the Mediterranean Basin, but will increase its use of Arab ports and installations.

The analysts cite two main reasons for this: — Any overt Soviet move to take control of bases in the Middle East probably would drive worried NATO nations closer together. This would clash with basic Soviet policy aimed at weakening NATO unity.

Western European countries already are alarmed by Moscow's ever-bolder naval operations in the Mediterranean. This problem is expected to receive close attention at this week's NATO meetings in Brussels.

For 20 years the Russians have been campaigning to pry the United States out of foreign military bases within range of Soviet soil. If the Russians should start acquiring bases in Arab lands at this time, they might catch a backlash of nationalism.

The monthly average of Russian warships in the Mediterranean has risen nearly tenfold over the past three years. Since the June war between Israel and the Arab states, the Soviet Navy has been an almost constant guest in Egyptian ports.

Sources said there usually are about 40 Russian naval vessels in the "Med" at any given time. More than half of them normally are modern fighting ships, including guided-missile cruisers and destroyers, submarines and amphibious units.

The Russians have nothing so formidable as the two attack aircraft carriers, that make up the core of the 60-ship U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Pleasant Scout Meet

A special meeting for leaders of the newly formed Pleasant Township Cub Scout Pack 45 is scheduled for Wednesday evening at 7:30 in St. John's Lutheran Church.

District Scout executive John Kloos will conduct the session. Leaders include Bob Rieder, Donald Wetsch, Mrs. Edna Cooper, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Bertch, Sheldon Stewart and James Blum.

and came into effect the following Aug. 24.

The treaty permits signatories to withdraw after 20 years if they give notice a year beforehand. It does not specify, however, whether notice could be given in 1968 for withdrawal in 1969 or in 1969 for withdrawal in 1970.

Paris had leaned toward the former interpretation while Washington and most of the other allies leaned toward the latter.

Now there is "general agreement" that no country can pull out before 1970, according to NATO Secretary General Brodie, who spoke to newsmen Monday on the eve of a ministerial council meeting of the 15 allies.

Other sources said specifically that France had shifted to the 1970 interpretation.

France apparently is still keeping her options open. But the changed French interpretation suggests that France, for the present, has shelved any withdrawal plans she may have had.

Qualified sources cite several reasons for this. Militarily, France still benefits from the integrated NATO air warning system which in case of attack gives her advance notice of where the attack is coming from. This is essential for her embryonic nuclear strike force known as the force de frappe.

UN Warned Of Uncurbed Population

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Secretary General Thant received Monday a declaration signed by 30 heads of government that warns of the perils of uncurbed population growth and calls for family planning to be a recognized and basic human right.

The declaration was presented at a ceremony attended by some, but by no means all, of the invited 122 delegations.

The firm support voiced by Thant and the participating diplomats was seen by officials and observers here as an effort to place the "moral authority" of the United Nations behind the declaration, although it was not an undertaking voted and approved by the membership.

The U.N. is moving ahead to help governments with birth control programs when they request them, but for many years the organization had a go-slow attitude. This was largely because some states objected for religious reasons to birth control programs.

If the Shoe Fits

James R. Valone

Footsaver Education

Why should my son's arches suddenly become weak?

It has been the custom to attribute the condition to a high fever but too many of the children are uncooperative — no fever.

Shoemen seek an answer to the question because good customers are lost when parents blame shoes for the occurrence. If a certain shoe was responsible, most of the children who wear that kind of shoe would develop the weakness. That just doesn't happen.

The most acceptable reason is that periods of weakening and strengthening should be expected because children's feet grow in spurts. Growth of a size or a size-and-a-half is usually followed by a period of slow growth or no growth at all. We believe that rapid growth causes the weakness which is overcome by exercise during the period of slow growth. That may not be the whole answer but it sure beats the high fever story and being told by the mother that her child has been disgustingly healthy.

Progressive Thinking

There has been a lot of talk lately about the necessity of "progressive thinking." Of the need to look far off into the future and determine what our needs will be then so that we can plan for them now. And there is no question that this kind of thinking has its value and place.

But over the past few years the tendency has been to place all of our emphasis on the future while we overlook many of the things that present a crying need for immediate attention. So much so, that what is often offered as "looking to the future" is nothing more than outright procrastination.

And what about that future? Will it be anything like what we might imagine today? Not if the facts of our historical past possess any revealing attributes.

There was a time when furs were as valuable as gold or silver or even some precious gems, and Warren County produced its share. But these furs were only of great value when transported to eastern seaboard ports for shipment to Europe. So it is altogether likely that any planning done by the fur traders working the territory at the beginning of the 19th century would have been directed to improving the waterways leading east.

Yet a year later the first timber raft was floated down the Allegheny River to Fort Pitt, and an industry that was destined to replace fur trading was born. Soon the giants of this industry were looking to the future and determining what the needs of the county would be in years to come. Their emphasis was directed to the sections along the river, for the river would always provide transportation to the West, and it was in the West where the markets were.

But even as they planned, Col. Edwin Drake struck oil at Titusville and within two years oil producing wells were strung along the river in the vicinity of Tidioute. In another few years they were spreading out to other sections of the county. Some of this oil was floated down the river to market, but in general King Oil preferred to go east to the seaboard and to ride there on railroad cars.

Hurriedly, railroads were planned and built. Then the county passed through an era when all planning for the future was based on rail transportation. Since then railroads have diminished in importance to be replaced by four-lane highways and air transportation.

And while both lumber and oil still play an important part in our county economy, a new economic dimension has developed in the form of recreational potential. An opportunity that wasn't even considered of importance by "progressive thinkers" of less than 20 years ago. Yet today it is heralded as the second largest industry in the state, and Warren County is considered to be among the more richly endowed.

Much of the future of our county may depend on the foresight of those who plan for it, that's for sure. But that future will be just as dependent, too, on the degree of forcefulness we employ in promoting the opportunities that are ours today. If we drive forward now, tomorrow may take care of itself.

History of the Ideologue

An exasperated student has taken the trouble to reproduce a few pages from his history textbook, grandly titled "The American Nation: A History of the United States," extruded from a great big ideological tube by Professor John A. Garraty of Columbia University. Mr. Garraty has produced "history" which even Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., would likely frown upon as, well, excessive. I mean, to read like a series of resolutions adopted by the Daughters of the American Revolution, with of course the sympathies reversed, and raises the question, how much can one put over on a student, without losing his respect? That, presumably, depends on the student. Depends on how much history they can manage to learn before studying history formally at school.

Buckley

Hiss" — how's that for rhetorical gamesmanship? Compare George Lincoln Rockwell: "Franklin Delano Roosevelt was one of the first to observe the worst Adolf Hitler" — "he (Nixon) had skyrocketed to national prominence by relentlessly exploiting the public fear of Communist subversion. 'Traitors in the high councils of our government,' he charged in 1950 without advancing a shred of proof, 'have made sure that the deck is stacked on the Soviet side of the diplomatic tables.'" Compare: "In his inaugural address, President Franklin Roosevelt, without advancing a shred of proof, relentlessly exploited the fear of a national Depression."

I hardly need to dwell on the treatment of Senator Joe McCarthy. The prose sounds like the balloons in horror comics, e.g., "For weeks his (McCarthy's) dark scowl, his blind combativeness and disregard for every human value stood exposed for millions to see. The climax came when he maligned a young member of the law firm of Joseph Welch, chief counsel of the Army, charging that he had once been a member of a radical organization." Imagine! At this point we have reached page 816 of Mr. Garraty's history. But there are never enough pages to record that the young member of the law firm had indeed belonged to a radical organization, so that anyone who knows a little history is left with the vaguely unsatisfying feeling of having read an obnoxious passage culminating: "The climax came when Mr. Smith charged that the square root of four is two."

And on and on and on. No wonder that they are in a rebellious mood. They have a lot to rebel about, if such is typical of the ideologized gruel that passes for learning.

Alabama Here We Go!

WASHINGTON — The entire government of the state of Alabama is now working for former Gov. George Wallace's presidential nomination outside the state, and nobody is quite sure who is minding the store.

While Alabamians can probably govern themselves, there is always the chance that an emergency could arise in which somebody in authority might be needed.

Suppose, for example, there is a riot in Bull Whip County, and the sheriff down there calls the state capital for help.

"This is Sheriff Axhandle of Bull Whip County. Let me speak to the governor."

"She ain't here. She's in San Diego helping her husband, George."

"Well, where's he at?"

"He's in Sacramento trying to get a petition signed."

"Well, let me speak to the lieutenant governor, then."

"He ain't here. He's up in Alaska at a White Eskimo Rally for Wallace."

Buchwald

"Dammit, I'm having trouble down here, and I need some state troopers."

"Ain't no state troopers left in the state. They're all out guarding George."

"Well, then, I'll have to take the National Guard."

"Can't help you. The National Guard is out in California guarding the state troopers."

"I've got to speak to somebody. What about the commissioner for public safety?"

"He's down in New Mexico as Wallace's advance man. I doubt if you could get through to him."

"Let me speak to the speaker of the House."

"You must really be out of it down there. The speaker of the House has moved to Oklahoma until after the elections."

"Listen, man, this is an emergency. I need some police dogs fast."

"All the police dogs are in Wisconsin. George expects a hard fight there."

"Can you get me some cattle prods pronto?"

"The state senators took all the cattle prods with them when they went off to campaign for Wallace in New Hampshire."

"This is ridiculous. What about some fire hoses?"

"The fire department is in Ohio trying to put out some fires that George started a few weeks ago."

"There's got to be somebody in authority."

"Let me look around and see." (Pause)

"Sorry, Sheriff. There's nobody here."

"What about you? Don't you have any authority?"

"I hadn't given it much thought."

"Well, who the hell are you, anyway?"

"Ah's the janitor, Boss. What kind of riot didja say you was having down there?"

The Corner Position

Pennsylvania News Service HARRISBURG — Pennsylvania's lawmakers apparently are determined to force themselves into a corner.

Actually, of course, the corner position is the last position any lawmaker politician would intentionally head for, but intentions and reality oftentimes are two different items.

This is precisely the case as Pennsylvania's legislative dabble again this week over what is to be done about raising taxes to provide the funds for the added and expanded programs Governor Shafer insists taxpayers are clamoring for.

The point in all this is that next year is election year for the 203 members of the House of Representatives and half the 50-seat Senate—and an election year generally is not regarded as any sort of a prime year in which to raise (voter) taxes.

On this tax-election-year theme there are two points of considerable significance:

The first revolves around the simple fact that when new taxes are enacted in the year preceding an election, such detaching operations on the part of the legislative gettys on the tax front usually assume sort of a backwash lustre by the time campaign days roll around, an item that by then has become sort of an accepted way of life.

However—such theory is predicated upon the fact that the new imposts for the clamoring peasantry become a fact long before the end of the year preceding election.

This has not developed; the start of the new year (election year) now is only two weeks distant—and Pennsylvania's legislative intelligentsia are still strangling themselves (mentally) trying to come up with an answer.

This means that if an answer is found within the space of the next week or two, the new imposts unquestionably will be nominally fresh in the minds of voters of the Keystone State come campaign year 1968—far fresher than had the taxes been enacted three or four months ago.

This fresh-tax angle brings up the second point.

Even though they clear the tax deck during this joyous yuletide season the full effect or impact will not hit home (or pocketbook) until next year—about the same time the impact on delayed paying for Christmas whinge-dings fall due.

Any such combination of circumstances as this is not likely to produce unbounded joy in the direction of lawmakers, whose dastardly deeds are more likely to be remembered somewhat sullenly later in the year!

But the negative part of all this, insofar as lawmakers up for re-election next year is concerned, revolves around another interesting (and painful) fact of political life—also destined to fall due next year.

Nearly six months ago—at a time when Shafer Administration strategists were assuming their $300 million tax increase projections would be on the books in a month or two—administration experts, projectionists, and what-not, were quietly peeking ahead to 1968 (apparently overlooking the election year angle).

They projected "additional" revenue needs for fiscal 1968, 69 (which will start July 1) at a "minimum" of $170 million—all this assuming the clearance of the $300 million increase proposed for the current 1967-68 fiscal year which by now still remains to gain legislative approval!

Unquestionably it can be said that when Pennsylvania's lawmakers box themselves into a corner, they fiddleth not. (About all they need do now is clear a pay increase for themselves in these closing hours of the '67 session!)

"You must really be out of it down there. The speaker of the House has moved to Oklahoma until after the elections."

"Listen, man, this is an emergency. I need some police dogs fast."

"All the police dogs are in Wisconsin. George expects a hard fight there."

"Can you get me some cattle prods pronto?"

EXTENDED SEASON POSSIBLE

Weather Holds Down Doe Kill in County

Mother Nature handed Warren County "doe" hunters a real kick in the pants yesterday as she poured a cold rain on the hunters throughout the day and buffeted them with winds up to 20 miles per hour. Temperatures ranged from around the freezing mark in some areas to well below in others.

These unfavorable conditions kept the heavy hunting pressure from penetrating into the deepest areas of the deer country and contributed much towards the low kill that resulted on the opening day of the antlerless season.

At Chapman Dam, a prominent point of comparison for the rest of the county, Myron Bullock reported only 40 deer killed. This, he said, was far below average and was surprising because the hunting pressure exceeded past seasons. Approximately 600 hunters were counted there throughout the day.

Bullock estimated that with the deer population he had observed before the opening of the buck season he had expected the kill yesterday to be close to double what it was.

Hunters who were present in the field yesterday said that the deer were "laying close" because of the stormy conditions and that not enough hunters were leaving the roadside areas to move them out of the cover.

These same conditions were about what Don Parr, game protector in the Tidioute section, reported from the lower end of the county. Except Parr said that one of his deputies reported a good kill in the Queens-Hickory area where some of the more rugged hunters had gone deep into the backcountry.

Weather conditions today are expected to be about the same for the second day of the antlerless season, except some warming is possible with the temperatures getting into the upper 40's.

It is possible if the low kill continues today and Saturday, the third day of the 3-day season, is not enough to bring about the desired harvest of antlerless deer the Pennsylvania Game Commission will use its option to add more days to the season. The pre-season estimate of the Commission was that 135,000 antlerless deer should be killed to reduce the herd to a size indicated by range conditions.

If more days are added to the season the dates on which antlerless deer may be hunted will be announced by news media as soon as the Commission's decision is known.

Tom Foley, 210 N. Irvine Street, brought down a doe with albino markings yesterday morning in the Jale's woods area. In addition to the white face, the deer had white "sockings," and a white tail. Foley dropped her with a .243 Winchester at 125 yards. (Photo by Mahan)

Vandy, Kentucky Climb In College Cage Ratings

Vanderbilt and Kentucky of the Southeastern Conference made the most rapid advances in The Associated Press' major college basketball poll Monday while Davidson, Indiana and Princeton gained rated positions for the first time this season.

UCLA's powerful Bruins continued to hold a commanding lead in the weekly balloting and Houston remained a strong runner-up.

Last week's ranking teams were beaten seven times all told, and it turned out to be unlucky seven for Kansas, Dayton and Purdue as the three dropped out of the Top Ten. Kansas was fourth, Dayton No. 6 and Purdue No. 7 a week ago.

UCLA was only one short of unanimous selection as the leading team. The Bruins collected 34 first place votes and one for second in the balloting by a national panel of 35 sports writers and broadcasters. Houston got the other first place vote.

On a basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third etc., UCLA accumulated 349 points, Houston had 313 points, drawing 31 votes for second place and three for third in addition to its lone vote for the top spot.

The Bruins, winners of 37 games in a row over three seasons, lifted this year's record to 3-0 by wallowing Wichita State 120-86 and Iowa State 121-80 last week.

Houston beat Abilene Christian, North Dakota State and Illinois for a 4-0 mark.

Vanderbilt is third followed in order by Kentucky, Louisville, Boston College, North Carolina, Davidson, Indiana and Princeton.

The Commodores advanced from the No. 8 slot after defeating Auburn 78-65 and North Carolina 89-86, Kentucky, ninth a week ago, whipped Florida, Xavier of Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Louisville slipped two notches. The Cardinals beat Kansas 57-51 but lost to Northwestern 68-83.

Boston College, which downed Dartmouth and Connecticut, zoomed four places to sixth. North Carolina fell two positions. The Tar Heels defeated Kent State before bowing to Vanderbilt.

Kansas lost a pair—57-51 to Louisville and 88-73 to Chicago Loyola. Dayton was beaten by Miami of Ohio and Eastern Kentucky while Purdue, which extended UCLA before dropping a two-point decision in the season opener, split a pair with Washington.

Davidson, Indiana and Princeton are unbeaten, the Wildcats with a 4-0 record and the other two with 3-0 marks. Davidson defeated Furman and Michigan last week. Indiana beat Missouri and Ohio University while Princeton downed Villanova and Colgate.

EOC TEAM AT HIGH SCHOOL

Cross-Country Cage, Mat Contests Head Schedule

A comparatively light night on the local sports scene finds only two high school basketball games and one wrestling match, but two of the three events pit cross-county rivals.

Sheffield's undefeated cagers host Eisenhower in the basketball headline of the evening and the Knight grapplers entertain Youngsville, the first regular season meeting on the mats between the two schools.

Also included on the court slate is a Youngsville-Cochran rematch on the Cardinals' floor and the Venango Campus team is here against the Warren-Edinboro Campus cagers, the county's only college quintet.

Stokely Carmichael Loses His Passport

NEW YORK (AP) — Black Power militant Stokely Carmichael flew home from a five-month trip abroad Monday, and immediately had his American passport taken away from him. Carmichael had visited Communist Cuba and North Vietnam and in Hanoi had expressed "warm support for the struggle against the common enemy."

Traffic Toll In U.S. Lower Than '66 Record

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic deaths in the United States are running slightly behind the record pace of 1966. The National Safety Council reported Monday that motor vehicle fatalities totaled 43,110 in the first 10 months of this year, less than half a percentage point under the 43,310 for the corresponding period of last year.

The 1966 total was 53,000. The council estimated injuries for the first 10 months at about 1.5 million and the costs of accidents at more than $8 billion. October's toll of 4,980 victims was slightly below the tally for October of 1966.

The rate of fatalities in relation to miles traveled showed a marked drop during the first 10 months. Deaths per 100 million miles of motoring dipped to 5.3 compared with 5.6 for the corresponding period of 1966. The leading traffic safety cities in each population bracket, and their deaths per 10,000 registered vehicles during the first 10 months of this year are: More than 1 million population: Houston 2.3, Chicago 2.8, Philadelphia and Detroit 3 each. 750,000 to 1 million: Milwaukee 2, San Francisco 2.6, Baltimore 2.8. 500,000 to 750,000: Indianapolis 2.1, Seattle 2.3, Denver and Columbus, Ohio, 2.4 each. 350,000 to 500,000: Portland, Ore., 1.8, Buffalo, N.Y., 1.9, Oakland, Calif., 2. 200,000 to 350,000: Grand Rapids, Mich., 1, Flint, Mich., and Austin, Tex., 1.5 each, Albuquerque, N.M., 1.7. 100,000 to 200,000: Salt Lake City, 0.9, Allentown, Pa., 1.2, Youngstown, Ohio, 1.6. 50,000 to 100,000: Sioux Falls, S.D., 0.3, Bethlehem, Pa., 0.6, Racine, Wis., 1.

Rumania, USSR Discuss Renewal 20-Year Treaty

(C) N.Y. Times News Service BUCHAREST — Rumania and the Soviet Union are holding preliminary discussions on renewal of a 20-year mutual assistance treaty which Bucharest authorities want diluted to conform to their independent foreign policy, Rumanian sources said Monday.

The principal Rumanian demands are said to center on a refusal to renew the original 1948 pact's condemnation of West Germany and a clause providing for automatic consultations on all international questions.

In an apparent effort to improve their negotiating position, the Rumanians did not denounce the treaty last Feb. 4, one year before the 20-year pact formally expires.

The treaty provides that in such an event its terms remain automatically in force for an additional five years even if a new pact is not signed. Underlining the Rumanian stand is nationalistic concern about infringement of its sovereignty and a desire not to prejudice the diplomatic relations with West Germany that were established in January, 1967.

GIFT OF GRANQUIST ESTATE

Conservationists Take Over Akeley Swamp

By DON NEAL
A vital conservation education area has been acquired to help promote a wider appreciation of our nature-oriented heritage in Warren County according to a recent announcement by the Northern Allegheny Conservation Association. A gift to the Association by the estate of Victor and Grace Mahaffey Granquist, the area will be dedicated as The Thomas Jefferson Mahaffey Wetlands Conservation Area and will consist of 44 acres which is presently a part of the Akeley swamp.

It has long been the hope of area naturalists and conservationists that this natural phenomenon would be preserved for future generations, but until recently there were few indications that it would be. However, through the cooperation of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Granquist, title to the lands involved have now been deeded to the Northern Allegheny Conservation Association and plans are being laid to develop the area with emphasis on its educational value.

Akeley swamp constitutes a very unique land and water relationship. Here is a wildlife community that is in a constant state of change, mostly because land-based vegetation is unceasingly pushing itself forward into the watery portions of the swamp, displacing the water-based vegetation, and thus creating a constant state of change in plant succession between patches of open water and dry land.

As this plant succession changes the available habitat for wildlife, the wildlife that can thrive on the existing habitat changes proportionately. And when the time finally comes that the land-based vegetation completes its takeover of the swamp, converting the entire area to dry land, as it will at some time in the future, both the water-oriented habitat and the wildlife dependent upon it will have been obliterated and the uniqueness of the area will be lost.

But the time when this will come about is far off in the distant future. In the meantime it will be possible to study the Akeley swamp, not only as an area where animals of both land and water preferences intermingle and many that prefer the shoreline that divides the two habitats can be found, but as an example of the natural evolution that eventually leads to the "death" of a lake. The Akeley swamp is all that remains of a lake that once extended northward all the way into New York State.

But the evolutionary process requires eons of time to complete its task. First many, many years of aquatic plants and animals dying and settling to the bottom are required to build the muck bottom on which bulrushes and cattails and similar plants can grow. As these plants grow and spread they also die and help to build up more soil.

Finally grasses and sedges are able to root and form sod, and on this sod base swamp shrubs such as the willow begin to thrive. As the process continues and the land area increases trees such as red maple, ash, and elm will start to grow along the edges. Soon the encroachment is widespread and the swamp is being choked out of existence.

Presently the Akeley swamp is ideally "aged" to present this evolutionary drama in its most dramatic and educational form. And through the proper development of the area should contribute much to the conservation awareness and appreciation of those who will visit it.

All who have contributed toward bringing the Thomas Jefferson Mahaffey Wetlands Conservation Area into being are to be commended. Their efforts and contributions to this worthy project have provided the Warren area with a recreational development that is exceptionally unique, and will one day be highly appreciated by the community.

Breakfast Briefs

Apparently Unhurt

A 75-year-old Corry man was apparently unhurt when he was brushed by a moving car and knocked to the ground Friday afternoon, according to Corry police. The driver of the car, Roger A. Burlingame, 16, of Columbus, said he was going east on East Columbus avenue and saw a man crossing from south to north. Burlingame hit his brakes and swerved to the left but the fender of his car brushed Leon I. Craker, knocking him down. The driver told police Craker refused to go to a doctor and said he was unhurt.

Overdose of Pills

A New York State woman remains in serious condition at Union City Memorial Hospital where she was taken last Thursday evening after apparently taking an overdose of pills. State police of the Corry substation said they were alerted by New York State authorities to be on the lookout for the woman. Officers were informed that a car was parked at a Union City area motel with its lights on. An investigation by Union City police and state troopers found the woman in question unconscious in a near-by cabin.

County Approves FAA Grant For Regional Airport Plans

The Warren County Commissioners yesterday approved a resolution accepting a Federal Aviation Agency grant for improvements and expansion at Bradford Regional Airport at Mt. Alto.

The contract grant with the federal government commits the FAA to 50 per cent participation or $402,455 on the overall $800,000 cost of the project.

The state pays a quarter or about $200,000 with the four counties in the Regional Airport Authority to share in the balance. Warren, McKean, El-and Cameron counties entered into the agreement earlier this year with Warren County's share set at about $5,100, one fifth of which was paid into the Authority in October.

Participating counties pay off their obligations as they desire with Warren currently planning payment over a five-year period.

Since Thursday was the deadline for accepting the federal contract agreement, the move could not be postponed until the new board of commissioners take office after swearing in ceremonies on Tuesday, January 2. Commissioners D. H. Lay and Lewis L. Crippen approved the resolution with Blain M. Mead casting a dissenting vote.

The commissioners also signed a non-discrimination form required under federally assisted programs of FAA.

Present at the session were McKean County Commissioner Dr. Arvid Baker of Fort Allegany; county solicitor David Swanson and commissioners-elect Dr. David K. Rice and Thomas J. Donnelly.

Hearing Postponed

UNION CITY — An indefinite postponement has been granted by a Bloomfield peace justice in the preliminary hearing for Mrs. Theima Romesberg of RD 2, Union City, on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

The charge stems from an incident November 24 in which she allegedly fired a pistol at her husband, Gerald, three times, hitting him twice.

Postponement was granted at the request of Mrs. Romesberg's attorney to give her time to voluntarily undergo psychiatric testing. Mrs. Romesberg was granted 90 days to arrange for an examination. She remained free on $5,000 bond.

Romesberg suffered bullet wounds of the arm and leg and was a patient several days at Union City Memorial Hospital.

Rotary Club Holds Its Annual Christmas Dinner

Warren Area High School A Capella Choir and Madrigal Singers presented their annual Christmas program at the holiday dinner of Warren Rotary Club Monday noon in Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian Church.

The groups, under direction of Carroll A. Fowler, produced a wonderful sound. The program included a wide range, and closed with "The Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah."

Before the singers began their program, the Rotarians sang "We Wish You A Merry Christmas." They were welcomed by Rotary president Henry Powell.

Chairman for the Christmas program was Bernie Wingert.

Dinner was served by the Women's Association of the church, Mrs. James Potter chairman. Table decorations were by Rotary Annes Dottie Wingert and Pat Huey.

Rotary International exchange student Juan Peter Monqat, from Argentina, was presented with a portable tape recorder by Dr. John Roop, on behalf of the Warren Rotary Club. It was his farewell appearance at Rotary before returning home.

Guests introduced included: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schumaker, Christy Roop, The Rev. and Mrs. LeRoy Lundgren, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones.

Student director of the Madrigal Singers of WAHS was Terry Mader. Susan Roop was accompanist for parts of the program of the choir.

Brother Greeted Here After Half a Century

ROULETTE—"I still can't believe what I'm seeing," was the remark of Walter Rytel, 61, of Warsaw, Poland, as he stepped off an Allegheny Airline's flight at Bradford Regional Airport last Wednesday.

Meeting him at the airport were his brother, Frank, 77, and his sister, Alexandria, 73, (Mrs. Charles Fundator).

More than half a century has passed since Walter had seen his sister and brother. He will stay here at least a year.

Walter had spent two frustrating years behind the Iron Curtain getting a visa to America processed. His friends warned him: "You'll be sorry."

The picture of America served up in Eastern Europe is indeed bleak, one of extreme violence, he said. "If you go to America, you'll be killed," they warned him.

But since he's been here, he has found the ugly American image a myth, sheer propaganda. He said he discovered the real America—that there is not someone lurking at every corner ready to shoot from the hips.

Arrest Driver

Borough police officers at 11:40 a. m. Saturday nabbed a local motorist and charged him with driving during suspension. Arrested was Ernest N. Barr, of 116 Pennsylvania ave. E.

SOCIAL Wanderings by Marion Honhart

THE FOREST SERVICE WIVES CLUB, not to be left out in this merry season's activities, is sponsoring a dinner dance at the Knights of Columbus Hall on the night of Saturday, December 16th. Festivities will get under way at 7 o'clock with a pre-dinner social mixer and dinner will be served at 8. The Al Gordon Quartet will provide music for dancing from 9 o'clock on through the evening. All reservations were to have been in by yesterday, but—just in case someone forgot—Joe Pasquino will still accept them if you call him at 723-5151-Ext. 23. Tickets per couple are $3.75. Each one attending is requested to bring a Christmas gift, wrapped, and costing no more than $1. for Blue Jay Corpsmen who will not be going home for Christmas.

A CAROL SING with refreshments afterwards will be hosted by the Home Street School on Wednesday, December 20th, at 7:30 on the Alexander side of the school building. The members of the singing group will be pupils of the 4th, 5th and 6th grades. All children are expected to be accompanied by a parent or adult. Mrs. Robert Koebler, chairman, and her committee will serve refreshments inside the school following the program. The committee requests that no one enter the school building before the Carol Sing, the exception being, of course, the young singers themselves.

TRINITY WOMEN WILL HAVE THEIR CHRISTMAS dinner tomorrow at 3:15 in the Parish House. There will be a program of Advent Carols with explanatory comments by the choir director, Carl Stout. The special music will be presented by a quartet comprised of Dr. George Riley, Glen Cosby, Mrs. John Burkhardt, and Andrew Yurick.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please warn mothers that outward appearances mean nothing. Tell them to keep their eyes on their daughters and not to take anything for granted. Just because a girl seems withdrawn doesn't mean she's leading a quiet life.

My friend who has two daughters, learned this lesson the hard way. Her 20-year-old Linda was beautiful, well-built and she attracted boys like crazy, starting at age 13. The mother felt the need to keep close tabs on this girl—and she did. They had frequent heart-to-heart talks and the lines of communication were always open. After every date the girl sat on her mother's bed and told her what the evening had been like.

Daughter Number Two (Marie) was 18 months younger—not at all pretty. She was noticeably overweight and had a bad complexion. This girl spent most of her time in her room with her nose in a book. The mother never concerned herself about Marie's morals because she seldom had a date and expressed very little interest in boys.

In September Linda was married to a fine young law student. She wore a white gown and I'll bet she deserved to. Last week Marie wore a white gown also—but it was a hospital gown. She gave birth to a 9-pound baby boy. (No husband in sight and not a clue as to who the father might be).

The mother nearly had a nervous breakdown. She repeated over and over, "I never dreamed such a thing would happen to HER—of all people."

I'm sure you get the message, Ann. Will you please get it across to the mothers? Thank you—JUST AN OBSERVER

Dear Just: Your letter got the message across very well. But here's a re-cap.

The not-so-pretty, not-so-popular girl is infinitely more vulnerable than the charmer with good looks and personality. An ugly duckling, in her eagerness to be loved, can be easy prey for the smooth operator who makes her believe that if she gives in he will love her. She also may feel that since she has less to offer she must be excessively generous with her physical favors. Are you tuned in, mothers? I hope you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband is a jerk. All his life he has done people favors. He repairs their electric appliances, drives them wherever they want to go, lends them money, signs notes at the bank and sits up half the night doing their tax returns. Just name it and my schnook does it.

I've told him for 22 years that he is a fool—that he should charge for his services, that people don't appreciate what they get for nothing. He pays no attention to me whatever.

He thinks you are a very smart woman. Will you please give him some of your common sense, down-to-earth advice—IGNORED.

Dear Ignored: The advice is for you, Lady. Get off his back. You say he hasn't listened to you in 22 years so why not take the hint?

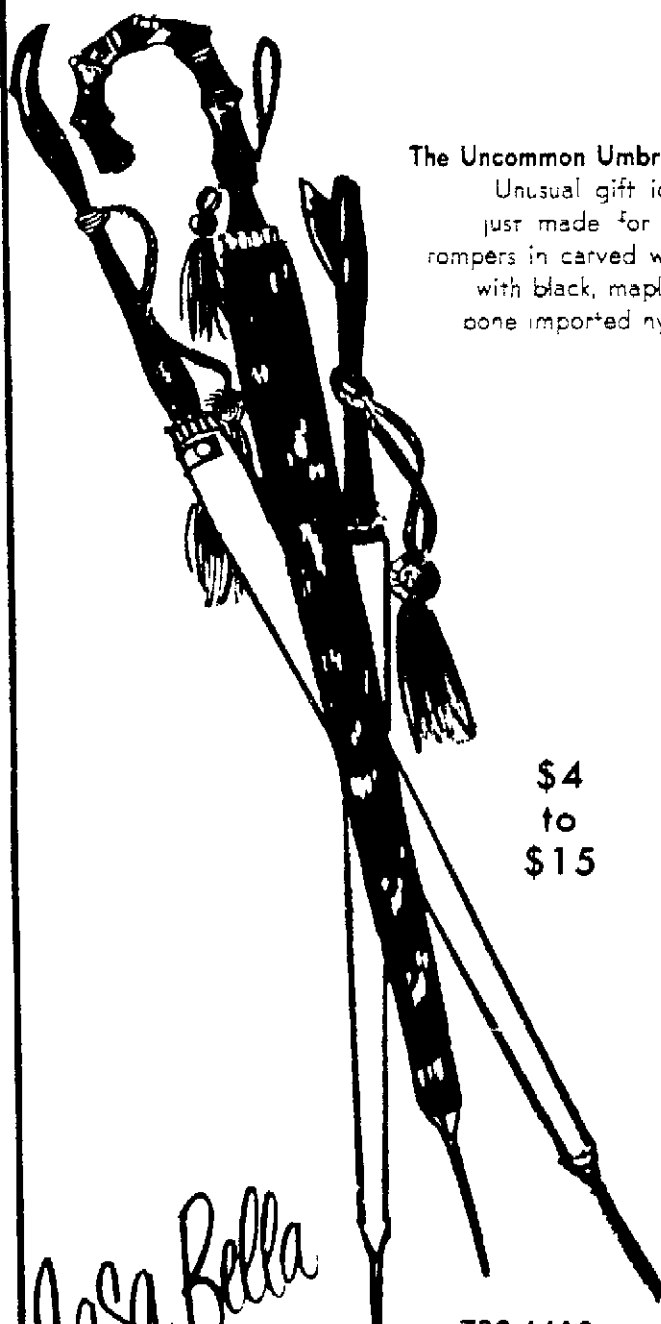

If your husband charged for his favors he'd lose the pleasure of giving—and this, my friend, can be a lot more rewarding than a buck here and a buck there.

Confidential to Proof in the Pudding: I'm unconvinced. Statistics can be arranged so that they will support almost anything—especially the statistician.

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet "Dating Do's and Don'ts," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

The bidding:

South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass
4 ♠ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ten of ♠

With all the outstanding high cards located unfavorably for the declarer, it appears that South must go down to defeat in his four spade contract. The latter, however, found a way to put the opposition to work for him and thereby reduce his losers on the deal.

Altho a heart opening would have proven to be more effective. West chose on the basis of the bidding to wage a passive defense, and he therefore led the ten of spades. East's queen appeared and South played the ace from his hand.

A successful campaign appeared to hinge on the fate of the club finesse. South observed a method for improving his chances, however, by partially stripping out the hand and then throwing the opposition in.

The queen of diamonds was led to dummy's ace, and the remaining diamond ruffed by declarer. The ace of clubs was cashed and then a spade was led to the king, drawing West's last trump. A club was led from dummy and South played the nine putting West in with the ten.

West was not in position to cash the king of clubs, for by so doing he would establish South's queen for a heart discard from dummy. A diamond return would present the declarer with a ruff and discard, so West made the only safe play by exiting with the eight of hearts.

The three of hearts was played from dummy and East put up the queen to win the trick, however, he found himself to be hopelessly endplayed on the return. He had no more clubs and a diamond shift would clearly surrender a trick. East therefore led back a small heart. South's ten held and, after cashing the ace of hearts, he graciously conceded another club to the opposition.

In all, declarer lost two club tricks and one heart

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR TUESDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1967

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—Invest time and energy only in projects worthy of your endeavor. In a rush to accomplish, don't bypass important small things, a day for giving things a "real try!" Just be certain you have the right direction. Discuss goals with whoever.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Your ruling planet fairly favorable. Use poise, tactful persuasion in reaching for worthwhile and desirable objectives.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Mercury somewhat adverse. Watch for irritating situations and bridge them amicably and with unbiased opinion. Move briskly into productive areas.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—Steadily increase the quality of your efforts where you can. Stimulate interest have an analytical mind and penetrating insight; use in items that bid to be of most value and satisfaction later. Ignore dissenters.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—Generally benefic indications from your planets. Cooperate by approaching duties and extracurricular matters enthusiastically. Watch your schedule; keep it meaningful.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—A more or less average day. Better finish, or at least further, existing plans and assignments. Starting new matters without sufficient preparation could lead to disappointment.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—Do not take a position for or against any issue until sure of your ground. Analyze glamorous sounding propositions; they could be enclosed in a bubble that will burst under pressure.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 23)—Scotch a present tendency toward jealousy. Don't nurture grudges which could later prove troublesome. Instead, emphasize your innate tolerance and loyalty to principles.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—This is a day for giving things a "real try!" Just be certain you have the right direction. Discuss goals with whoever.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Your ruling planet fairly favorable. Use poise, tactful persuasion in reaching for worthwhile and desirable objectives.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—Don't judge the future by the past. You can shape your destiny through your own efforts. To "let be what must be" is ineffective; in fact, it's a lazy attitude.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—Do not envy the others. Successful acquaintances can assist you. You have an analytical mind and penetrating insight; use in items that bid to be of most value and satisfaction later. Ignore dissenters.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—Be acquisitive but not grasping. Understand, be duly flexible. You have much to gain now.

YOU BORN TODAY take up new ideas quickly, are normally progressive. You have so much going for you in versatility and keenness that you should steadfastly shun a tendency to stubbornness at times. Don't be satisfied with superficial knowledge of any subject in which you are engaged or interested, plus your quick adaptability, will enable you to succeed in anyone of various pursuits, especially as a writer, editor, educator or business executive. Birthdate of: John Jay, early American statesman, G. Flaubert, Fr. novelist.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

WARDING OFF COLD

Protection against the cold means wearing proper gloves, footwear, clothing and going indoors when thoroughly chilled. Still, most northerners envy their southern counterparts who can bask in warm sunny air when wintry winds visit our area. Some persons have physical reasons why they suffer from the cold and are bothered even though the temperatures are not sub-zero. They may be malnourished, have a low metabolism, diabetes, anemia, or poor circulation. Others are overly sensitive or allergic to the cold or have a marked intolerance to low temperatures. These people need maximum protection or, perhaps they should winter in the south.

Individuals who must remain out of doors in subzero weather or work in artificially-cooled environments must also protect themselves against cold damage by wearing appropriate clothing. Thick multilayered coats and pants are preferred. The garments should be lightweight and windproof. Fibers that are not easily compressed and trap air offer excellent insulation.

Ordinary gloves should be worn, but in extreme cold, it may be necessary to wear a double pair. Many manufacturers of safety equipment sell thermal gloves with a plastic outer lining and a long gauntlet that fits snugly around the wrist. The inner part is soft-napped, bulky, meshed cotton. The porous liner permits air to circulate and minimizes perspiration. Good shoes and heavy socks keep the feet warm.

Avoid wet and light garments. Sweating feet become a problem, especially when rubber boots are worn. Dry the feet frequently and put on loose-fitting dry socks. Activity improves the circulation and generates heat. A face mask is helpful especially for oldsters with emphysema or heart trouble.

TOMORROW: Fatty Thinks Fat

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

SHAPING AFTER SURGERY

PF writes: How long does it take for the abdominal muscles to get back into shape after surgery?

REPLY: Depends upon what you started with and what you need your muscles for. The majority of patients are back in shape by the end of six weeks to three months. Some incisions, such as those in the midabdominal line, do not go thru muscles and any weakness that is present is due to disuse.

RISKS IN VEGETARIANISM

LT writes: I want to switch from eating meat to eating vegetables. Are there risks involved?

REPLY: No, except for anemia and vitamin deficiencies. Vegetarians get their proteins from nuts, cereals and legumes. These foods are second class proteins but are better than none.

PHANTOM LIMB

H.S. writes: What is phantom limb and what can be done about it?

REPLY: This peculiar sensation sometimes follows amputation. The limb feels as tho it is still there. Vasodilating drugs are used for relief. If pain is intolerable, an operation, in which the nerve is severed, may be required.
